

Corporate Background

Overview

SIE Computing Solutions, Inc. specializes in rugged electronic systems for mission-critical and performance-critical embedded computing platforms deployed in the world's harshest environments. With deep engineering expertise in thermal design, signal integrity, complex interconnection and power management technologies, SIE has a nearly forty-year legacy of providing enclosures, backplanes, system integration and custom engineering solutions developed with a board-agnostic approach to match the precise specifications and supplier preferences of its customers. SIE Computing Solutions is a preferred vendor to the world's largest defense and industrial companies, and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of privately-held embedded computing provider S.I.E. AG.
